Serious Accident.

His many friends will be pained to learn that Capt. G. M. Hodges, of Hodges, died of a serious heart attack, in his 40th year, last week. His coat sleeve was caught by the saw, and besides other injuries, both hands were so badly cut that the amputation of both limbs were deemed necessary. Dr. Maxwell and Dr. Lea performed the operations, taking off the arms below the elbows.

The A. R. P. Church.

The building committee have sold the A. R. P. church, which they first expected to build their church. Mr. J. Allen Smith bought it. The committee have bought a lot from Mr. Thomas P. Thompson, on the street leading to the G. C. & N. depot.

Dropped Dead.

William Bowring, four years, son of Andrew Bowring, colored, near Verdery, dropped dead last Saturday morning. Trial Justice W. E. Colman held an inquest. The jury rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased died of heart disease.

Look Out.

If any man is sensitive about receiving a dun, let him pay up at once. We are going to run duns at this time, which are intended. If there is error in the date or the name on the address label, please notify us at once.

Mr. W. T. Townsend, of Abbeville, in Anderson county, called at the Press and Banner office yesterday. He was one of the faithful members of the G. C. & N. Regiment, who went through the war with his company, and surrendered at Appomattox. Although he had not seen this officer for the war he recognized his old comrade on sight.

Among the other sins and shortcomings of the Press and Banner we stated last week that the editor in the case against Watt Hackett was "not guilty." In justice to that gentleman, and the jury who tried the case, we will state the jury found Hackett "guilty."

We expect to publish our list of subscribers this winter, and wish that each and every subscriber may be credited up at once.

Captain Edward L. Parker, formerly teacher at Abbeville, died at Summerville last Sunday night.

We were glad to welcome into our office last week and this week, many friends of the Press and Banner.

Hon. W. K. Blake, of Greenwood, is looking after the interests of his clients before Judge Aldrich.

Mr. George W. Pringle, of the Anderson Bar, is in attendance on our court.

Capt. W. E. Cottrill, of Millway, had business in Court yesterday.

Miss Jeanette Harrison is visiting at Judge Cottrill's.

E. S. F. Giles, Esq., of Greenwood, is in Court.

Hon. E. B. Murray was in town yesterday.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mr. Lewis Parker, of Greenville, spent Sunday with his parents in this place.

Miss Ida Bowman, of Lowville, is visiting the family of J. T. Robertson.

No service in Trinity church last Sunday on account of the sickness of the pastor.

Mrs. Blackburn returned home last Sunday after a short visit to her sister Mrs. J. S. Norwood.

Mrs. Aurlia Rucker returned to Athens last Tuesday.

Miss Ellen Parker spent a few days in Greenwood last week, visiting Mr. Calhoun DuPre.

Miss Jeanette Harrison, of Hard Labor, is visiting relatives in our city.

The sad news of the death of Miss Jennie Zeigler, which occurred at the home of her sister Mrs. Marshall, at Piedmont, has been received here on Monday morning. Her remains were interred at Long Cane the same evening, being brought down on the R. & D. 4:20 p. m. It is so sad that in the first bloom of womanhood she was chosen by the Reapers—Death. Truly does the "weep the weeping grain at a harvest, and the flowers that grow between."

Mr. Thos. Quarles, of Columbia, S. C., spent Monday night with the family of his uncle Mr. T. P. Quarles.

We hear that the public school will be opened next Monday. This is only a report, however. The work on the building is progressing rapidly.

On last Friday night the Literary Club was entertained at the home of J. C. Klugh, Esq. There was a full meeting and the essay read by W. L. Miller, Esq., was most interesting.

The discussion was general and covered all the phases of the subject. Subject of essay was "Education of Woman." After the discussion the usual refreshments were served, and most heartily enjoyed by the members, and visitors of the club. The meeting then adjourned to meet on Monday evening.

The next essay will be read by Mr. W. W. Bradley.

The Oil Mill did not run Monday evening. Cause some part of engine broken.

Work will begin on the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church building. Labor is being laid on the ground and the brick are ready to burn.

Mr. A. W. Smith is over from Atlanta for a few days. "There is no place like home."

Miss Lila Bowie, of Blue West, is visiting the family of Mr. R. D. Road.

The filling of a lamp in the store of W. A. Templeton & Co., Saturday night came very near being a serious affair. As it was, it took hours of work to extinguish the fire and then only after several dollars worth of goods were burned.

Nine negroes convicted of various crimes last week were yesterday sent to the Penitentiary in charge of Corporal Quarles, who came up Monday morning to receive them.

The new bakery will be opened this week. Short crops, short prices, and a corn crisis, however, in the north-west, do not go well together.

All parents who wish to educate their children at a small cost, should move to Abbeville. Our new public school will soon open in the finest school building in the State, and with every facility for educating the young.

Mr. J. M. Kirby is building a dwelling on the hill above the Oil Mill.

Very little cotton in town Monday and not much trade.

Contributed Locals.

Abbeville, S. C., Oct. 19, 1892.

Mrs. C. P. Hammond is visiting relatives in Elberton.

Mr. J. R. Boyd, the polite and efficient operator at the R. & D. Road has left for the Western Union office in Greenville, S. C.

Mr. Willie Carlisle of Anderson takes the place of Mr. Dick Boyd, as operator for the R. & D. Road.

Our mounted men would do well to build some nice cottages for rent. Several families have turned away from Abbeville, not being able to get a vacant house. Our town will never grow until we offer some inducements to new comers, and by all means a house to live in. Our railroad facilities are excellent, our stores are filled with all kinds of goods, and all we need is an increase of our population—then industries of different kinds will be opened up and our beautiful town will flourish and her people grow rich and prosperous. We have the climate, the land, the roads, and yet our population languishes and investments grow less instead of increasing, and why is it so?

The W. Branch now occupies the League room over the National Bank, which he has fitted up nicely.

Mr. J. D. Chalmers is much better and was out at his place of business last Monday for the first time in several weeks.

Mr. Jas. Chalmers, Jr., is now Clerk and Treasurer for the Town Council.

Abbeville now has the best market in the country. You can buy any kind of fresh meat, and at any time.

An eye witness thinks it would be a good idea to furnish the pews of some of our churches with comfortable head-rests, those who may be inclined to indulge in a nap. And a small desk might be attached to the back of some of the pews for those who write notes.

Quarterly Conference in the Methodist church next Friday evening. Attendance and attendance is desired, as the Conference year is drawing to a close.

Rev. Mr. Dargan preached two excellent sermons last Sunday. Subject—The unsearchable riches of Christ, and His boundless love for a sinful world. After the morning service a short church conference was held. Factors made a report embracing the two years of his ministry at Abbeville, as follows:

Received into the church by profession of faith 11; received by letter 1; removed by certificate 5; removed by death 1; baptized 2. Showing a net gain in the membership of 38 for the year.

Birthing—At Abbeville October 17, to Mrs. T. C. Perry a son.

Look out for the advertisement of the new Bakery.

The material for the building of the A. R. P. church at Abbeville is being laid on the lot.

Our colored Baptists are laying the foundation for the building of a new church.

Mr. Kirby is building a new cottage on one of the highest points of Abbeville, and others have bought lots and will soon build thereon.

The first Florida oranges of the season were received last Monday by A. M. Hill & Sons.

Miss Lila Bowie of Blue West is spending a few days with our friends here.

Abbeville has many visitors this week attending Court and Synod.

Florida oranges until the close of the season at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Our farmers are generally busy gathering corn and the yield is reported good.

Mr. Frank Tompkins has gone to Columbia to resume his studies at the State College.

Capt. Larry Watts of Lota, was in town last week on business.

Miss Mamie Kilmer has gone to Columbia to attend the Columbia Female College. Miss Mamie is one of our highest young ladies and we look for her to take a high stand in College.

Governor Tillman was right in not commuting the sentence of Mildred Brown, the child poisoner. She ought to have been burned at the stake.

Mr. H. R. Turner has gone to Beaufort where he will clerk for a leading house of that city.

The many friends of Capt. J. C. Myers of Newberry in Ninety-Six, will sympathize with him and his good wife in their great distress. On Sunday evening last they buried their sweet little daughter Lucille, a beautiful child of four or five years, and on Friday the 7th, the little baby boy, who had been in the arms of his mother, it is hard to give up those we love, especially the dear little ones.

Mr. Noah Griffin has rented the Salinas house on south Cambridge street and will move to town.

Mr. S. M. Davis is in the Wyoming horse trade. He says there are fast horses.

Mr. J. V. Scott is the only representative of Ninety-Six township this week on the jury.

Mr. I. M. Moore of Greenwood, was down today looking after his farming interests.

A lot of fine looking ladies from Greenwood recently made a raid on Mrs. T. J. Lipscomb's scuppernon grape arbor. We suppose they wanted to destroy the grapes for fear they would be made into wine. Temperance crusade.

Trial Justice McCaslin attends Court this week.

Ninety-Six has two cases before the Court of Sessions this week. State vs. Geo. Strother grand larceny and housebreaking, and State vs. Jim Roman, assault with intent to kill.

Mrs. George M. Anderson will assist Prof. Cook in the Ninety-Six high school. Mrs. Anderson is an accomplished talented lady and every way qualified for her position.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are away for a month. They will return soon.

Misses Annie and Sallie Osborne who have been spending the summer with relatives in Pickens are at home again.

Mr. James Rogers fine patch of corn made at the rate of fifty bushels to the acre. Cau Andy Hill beat it.

The Hon. George Johnston has ordered a trio of fine Berkshire pigs from James Rogers Jr.

Col. James H. Rice has planted the long staple cotton this year, has sold several bales at 9 cents per pound.

Mr. A. A. Still has rented the Sherrard house and will move to this fall.

Mr. George A. Connor has four beautiful hound dogs, the best we have seen.

The fox hunt last Thursday morning did not specify. Too dry and the foxes were not out.

Maj. Galtin has the finest lot of fat hogs we have seen. They are pure Berkshire.

Col. Utsey is at Cross Hill buying cotton. Maj. Galtin has an office. Supervisor of Election. We thought he was dying.

One Oon is a little slow, but like the one he gets the same all the same.

This reminds us of Capt. John Frank Hodges. Wonder where he is? We suppose, however, he is on his bridal tour.

Married a rich widow. Good luck "old boss."

Mr. J. M. Black of Abbeville was last week on a visit to friends.

Mrs. Blackburn returned home last week after a short visit to her sister Mrs. J. S. Norwood.

On our mill is running on full time. They are selling meal at $1.10 and hulls at 15c per hundred.

Mrs. Bettie Johnson who has been living with her brother John for the past year, David Mill will move back to Ninety-Six in the near future.

Miss Matty Anderson has closed her school at Mr. Lebanon and rumor has it that we are to lose her valuable services as a teacher soon.

Brother Still occupies the lone store house on the south-side, where he says he sells cheaper groceries than anybody in town.

East End.

STRANGE VERDICTS.

Lowndesville, S. C., Oct. 8, 1892.

Miss Annie Lou Power took her departure from our town Saturday for Greenwood.

Miss Maggie Lattimer of Abbeville reached here Saturday, for a visit to relatives and friends.

Rev. R. J. Williams of Honea Path, having consented to fill the appointment of the Rev. M. M. Moore, of Abbeville, he will preach in the Baptist church in this place Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m.

Mrs. J. M. Baker and her children, went to Anderson, Tuesday, for a short visit.

Messrs. Luther Carlisle and Milton McConnell of Anderson, representing the fastened wagon brakes, were in town Monday.

Mrs. J. B. Franks returned from a several days visit to Anderson, Tuesday.

Mr. J. E. Carter left Monday for Abbeville, to take a position in the post office at that place.

Hon. J. Belton Watson of Anderson, came down Friday and was the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. B. Berry Allen, till the next morning.

Mr. Jasper Hopkins of Oglethorpe county, Ga., was in town Saturday, in pursuit of a stolen mule.

We had a nice rain Saturday, which was much needed.

Mr. J. M. Baker went to Augusta Thursday on business.

This writer was absent from home several days last week, at Mr. Carmel, McCormick, the cotton crops are (generally) short, very short in some places. From McCormick the cotton is large enough in size, but is not well fruited. Many of those whom I met, will make corn enough to do this year. True, but last few weeks of good weather has caused the cotton to open very rapidly, and the planters are much better in picking.

Hurrah! for Georgia. Last Wednesday will long be a memorial day in her history. In her election on that day, she showed to all that she will remain in Democratic fold. Her very large Democratic majority (said to be about 7000), completely snuffed under the Third Party. Again we say hurrah! for Georgia.

The decision of a jury of inquest, is about as uncertain and sometimes far-fetched, as that of a petit jury. Sometimes ago, a man was shot, and in a few days died. The verdict of the jury was "That inflammation of the bowels caused his death."

Come the day, whenever it may, I am waiting, watching still. To walk in Jesus' lowly way. To take the dark and lowly day.

And make the world a better place. When come the day, I know a power; Nor death, nor hell, can e'er dismay, Nor men, nor devils, e'er devour.

And make the world a better place. "Come up and live behind the sky."

Then come the time to leave this clime! Up, by way of the starlit road, To build a city, built on the hill. Far, far beyond this vale of time, Where live the saints redeemed by God.
